1. Director's Message

The transformation seen at College of Engineering Pune (COEP) for providing quality technological and scientific education and an environment conducive to new and path breaking research and development in frontier areas of engineering, technology and science with an excellent Governance model is not only acknowledged by the State Government but also by the Central Government. As a result COEP was bestowed with the responsibility of mentoring Indian Institute of Information Technology Pune (IIIT, Pune) which has started functioning from the academic year 2016-17, by the Ministry of Human Resource Development (MHRD), Govt. of India. We, the management, faculty at COEP were all geared up to pass on the same legacy of COEP of being “BIG on Heritage” and “BOLD on Technology” to the newly established IIIT, Pune

In the first year, with a modest beginning 66 students were admitted into the institute for the two major courses offered – Computer Science and Engineering (CSE) and Electronic and Communication Engineering (ECE). I am sure that the strength of the institute will keep growing here after and the institute will soon elevate from ordinary to exemplary in the near future.

We also owe the success to our industry partners for who are constantly supporting and motivating the faculty and students at IIIT Pune with their mentorship and networking from time to time.

The experts from various industries have highly contributed in designing the academic syllabus along with the experts from COEP. The students have also been on numerous industrial visits and have had guest lectures, ensuring a holistic understanding and industrial exposure of academic concepts.

A number of extracurricular events were held in this institute. Each event has been a showcase of pure talent, conviction and the spirit of enthusiasm. It has always been of prime importance that not only should the institute churn out good engineers, but also good human beings also representing how traditions and modernity can be integrated in an educational environment.

An effective mentoring relationship has been formed over a period of time which was characterized by mutual respect, trust, understanding, and empathy. More than advising; our mentoring was a personal one, as well as, professional relationship, which enabled us to share our life experiences and wisdom, as well as technical expertise. While experiencing engineering and experimenting with it this nurturing was extended beyond formal education and continued by assisting the student's socialization into a disciplinary culture and to help them get industry exposures through internships.

Our faculty mentors have been good listeners, good observers, and good problem-solvers who have left no stone unturned to understand, accept, and respect the goals and interests of the students of IIIT Pune and helped to establish a conducive environment for the accomplishments of the students as well as the faculty.

We have a vision not just for this institute, but for the nation. We want students to graduate from this institute and give back unto society. Our aim is to provide them with all necessary infrastructure and knowledge to 'ignite' these young minds and each small step in that direction matters to us.

In light of the increased competition around the globe, we hope the institute will be more focused towards research activities with Industry and Institute being integrated to make these budding engineers competent and world ready.

I wish the faculty and students the very best for all their future endeavors!

Prof. B. B. Ahuja
Mentor Director
IIIT, Pune

2. About us

To address the challenges faced by the Indian IT industry and growth of the domestic IT market, the MHRD, Government of India intends to establish twenty Indian Institutes of Information Technology (IIIT), on a Not-for-profit Public Private Partnership (N-PPP) basis.
