Dear Sir, You have asked for many ISO certificates that are not required. Please clarify why you need these ISOs for cases and gym items. Also, you have mentioned a ZED certificate in the conditions. We only have a Silver certificate, not Gold. Please confirm if the Silver ZED certificate will be acceptable. Additionally, you have added items other than gym equipment in this tender. Therefore, we request you to create separate tenders — one for all gym items and another for the other work/items. also give your technical contact person number ?	No change, Since the gym will be extensively used by students, ensuring safety, quality, and compliance with standard protocols is of paramount importance. Accordingly, the requirement for submission of relevant safety and quality certificates has been clearly specified in the bid document. These certifications are essential to verify that the equipment meets prescribed safety standards and performance benchmarks. Further, the requirement of such certifications has been formulated based on the technical specifications and best practices followed by other reputed educational institutions and Institutes of National Importance. This ensures that the procured equipment is reliable, safe for student use, and conforms to established institutional standards.

	The inclusion of these requirements in the bid aims to safeguard student well-being, maintain uniform quality across installations, and reduce future risks related to equipment failure or non-compliance. Silver ZED certificate shall also be acceptable. Rope wire test certificates applicable to the gym equipment shall be submitted by the bidders mandatorily. All other certificate requirements shall remain the same as specified in the tender document.
